

More about this Episode

Meet Kristin - Kristin Greene is the owner and candle maker for Radiant Glow Candle Company. She started her candle business during her journey of self-love and self-development. As she continued on her path, she realized that if she wanted to live her best life and become the best version of herself she needed to elevate her mindset, get real with herself, and shed her old ways. Through her trek, Kristin developed a self-care routine that included reading, journaling, meditating, and most importantly, building her relationship with God- covering her mind, body and soul! As she became more mindful and aware of herself she discovered candles played an instrumental part of creating the right mood for her, which sparked the idea to make candles for other's that are on their journey or inspired to live a prosperous life inside and out.

More About Radiant Glow: Radiant Glow candles are handmade in small batches from a special formula of coconut and soy wax blend that are adorned with sprinkles of organic herbs and flowers. Her candles are not only eco-friendly and luxurious, they will create an inviting ambiance for good vibes in any room of yours. Enjoy her candles at home, your workspace, or while traveling. Radiant Glow's mission is to have their customers IGNITE THE GLOW WITHIN because candles are not the only thing that should glow, so should you!
